ESTABLISHED 1846. NEWPORT, R. I., FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1906.---TEN PAGES. PRICE TWO CENTS.

A Late Comer.

Welcome, nevertheless. This store is noted for the novelty of its stock. People find things here they don't see in the big city stores and wonder why it is. Well, we just study the possible needs and wants of our customers and then just hunt for the things to satisfy them.

A Gentleman's Chiffonier.

Not at all like the ordinary chiffonier, but like a great big closet with tightly closing door and inside fitted with sliding trays made just the right size for shirts, collars, ties, trousers folded, underclothes, in fact a whole wardrobe. For convenience there's nothing like it—compact and roomy with the right kind of a place for everything.

You should keep in touch with this store's stock—there's many an unusual want can be satisfied if you only know it.

BILLS PASSED BY PARLIAMENT.

Providing for Promotion of Dreyfus and Picquart.

Acquitted Candidate for Cross of Legion of Honor.

PARIS, July 13.—This was the closing day of Parliament and it was largely devoted to the re-habilitation of Alfred Dreyfus, so that the national holiday tomorrow may witness his return to the army and the effacement of the stain placed upon his good name. The chamber of deputies met at nine in the morning for the purpose of hastening the Parliamentary procedure, and War Minister Etienne immediately presented two government bills, on raising Captain Dreyfus to the rank of Major of Artillery, and the other promoting Colonel Picquart to that of Brigadier General.

M. Etienne asked for speedy action, adding that it was the government's intention to inscribe Dreyfus's name on the list of candidates for the Cross of the Legion of Honor. This announcement brought out a storm of applause. The bills were referred to the army committee, which at once went into session, approved them and drafted strong, favorable reports, which will be debated later.

Later, amid great excitement, the chamber considered the bill re-instating Dreyfus, and passed it by a vote of 472 to 42.

M. Messimy, Radical Socialist, read the report amid applause. There were two violent incidents as the voting began. M. Duruy shouted a taunt, directed at the Socialists, whereupon M. Lasies, anti-semite, rushed at his colleague and attempted to strike him.

At the same time, Mm. Fladin, Republican, and Ghesquiers were separated after efforts to exchange blows. A tumultuous demonstration greeted the announcement of the vote. President Brisson, on announcing the vote, said: "It is with pride that I register this vote consecrating the triumph of virtue."

A scene of similar disorder marked the reading of the report re-instating Colonel Picquart. The report severely arraigned the officers who were responsible for his condemnation, characterizing their acts as wicked villanies.

M. Denys Cochin, Conservative, protested against the violent language used in the report, whereupon there were tumultuous demands that General Mercier be prosecuted.

The restoration of Colonel Picquart was passed by 477 to 27 votes.

A knock-down fight occurred in the centre of the chamber, as M. Pressensen, socialist, demanded that the government prosecute the guilty officers. M. Pugliesi-Conti, Republican, shouted "The government officers are scoundrels."

M. Sarraut, Radical Socialist, then sprang forward and struck M. Pugliesi-Conti a stunning blow in the face.

A scene of tremendous confusion followed, during which the aisles were invaded by struggling deputies.

President Brisson then suspended the session and ordered the chamber to be cleared, which measurably subdued the turmoil.

The Radical supporters of Dreyfus are seeking to force the government to prosecute the many generals, colonels and high functionaries responsible for his condemnation. The amnesty law protects them, but a movement is on foot to repeal this law for the purpose of reaching Generals Mercier and Gonse, Colonel Du Paty de Clam, and others who were prominent in the prosecution of Dreyfus.

The government newspapers declare that the affair is closed, but others, notably the Figaro and Echo de Paris,

RUSSIAN OUTLOOK GROWING BRIGHTER

May Attain Constitutional Regime Peaceably.

Continuation of Present Tension Would Insure Conflict.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 13.—The outlook for the passage of the summer without a general upheaval in Russia is considerably brighter, and everything making for delay increases the possibility of the ultimate attainment of a real constitutional regime without an open civil war. The Constitutional Democrats have a sober sense of the responsibility and power with which they firmly believe they will soon be charged, while the Social Democrats seem to have succeeded in convincing the more radical wing that the time is not yet ripe for extreme measures.

If the government now takes advantage of the lull to make terms with the moderates in Parliament, there is still a chance of a peaceful settlement, but a continuation of the present tension, in the opinion of the best judges, can only destroy the prestige of the moderate element in Parliament, solidify all the oppositional forces and render a conflict certain.

The emperor is reported to be in constant cipher communication through General Trepoff, with Count Witte, who is at Vichy, France.

Although the official announcement of the retirement of the Goremykin cabinet is expected within a day or two, disquieting reports were afloat in the lobby of the lower house of Parliament today, to the effect that the assassination of Admiral Choukonin at Sebastopol was being used at Peterhof to influence the emperor to agree to a dissolution of Parliament. If this is done it might cause a new hitch. The Associated Press was assured, however, that there has been no change in the decision to supplant the Goremykin ministry with a cabinet having a better chance of effecting a rapprochement between Parliament and the crown. The emperor insists on the formation of a coalition ministry from the more moderate elements of the upper and lower houses of Parliament, and there are indications that the leaders of the Constitutional Democrats are ready to accept office in a combination ministry on certain terms.

LANDLORDS FLEE IN TERROR.

Fifteen Estates Destroyed by Peasants at Veronezh, Russia.

POLITICAL UNREST FELT IN TEHERAN.

Causes Great Uneasiness in Governmental Circles.

Affray Between Divinity Students and Authorities.

TEHERAN, Persia, July 13.—There is a recrudescence of political unrest among the mullahs and divinity students, which was marked earlier in the year, and it is exciting great uneasiness in governmental circles. The divinity students broke out into active opposition to the authorities yesterday, and forcibly released a professor who had been imprisoned on the charge of using seditious language. In an affray a student was killed and two were wounded. The heads of clergy assembled in the great mosque, and issued insistent demands for the immediate granting of the reforms previously promised in January.

All the shops, except the butchers and bakers, are closed, the city is patrolled by troops and the grand vizier and other ministers, who were in the country, have hastily returned to their posts. Constant conferences of the authorities are taking place, but the situation remains very strained, and nothing thus far has been done to satisfy the demands of the malcontents.

According to despatches from St. Petersburg, January 22, a movement was on foot in Persia to obtain a constitutional government.

PLANS FOR BRITISH ARMY.

Proposed Scheme Will Increase Efficiency 50 Per Cent.

LONDON, July 12.—War Secretary Haldane, in the house of commons today, announced the government's plans for a more economical administration and a more efficient maintenance of the army. Among those present in the house, which was crowded, was William J. Bryan, who went there especially to hear Mr. Haldane's speech.

Broadly, the government's proposed is to maintain an expeditionary force of 150,000 men immediately available for war, with a territorial organization behind it capable of supporting and expanding the forces serving abroad. This expeditionary force and its immediate supports would be administered directly by the military authorities, while the territorial part of the national army would be controlled by country associations, the command and training of all the forces being in the hands of general officers commanding in chief.

Mr. Haldane's plan contemplates the reduction of the forces by seven battalions of infantry abroad, and three battalions at home, including two battalions of guards. He proposes to arrange for one mobilization of 68 batteries of artillery, as a proper complement of the expeditionary force, out of a total home establishment of 99 batteries, leaving 36 batteries for training purposes. He said that the proposed expeditionary force will be 5,000 men stronger than any expeditionary army Great Britain has hitherto attempted to organize for foreign service. For home defence, Mr. Haldane added, the country must look chiefly to the yeomanry and volunteers, and the general staff is preparing a scheme defining the future functions of these forces, and their administration will be handed over to the country organization.

The war secretary said that the state of the national forces was highly satisfactory from the point of view of both cost and organization. He believed that economy and efficiency were not inconsistent with democratic nations. However they might differ on other subjects, they were unanimous in the desire to lighten the crushing burdens, due to armaments, now resting upon them. He believed the proposed scheme would increase the fighting efficiency of the army by 50 per cent.

The war secretary said he thought that more use ought to be made of the militia as was done by foreign nations, and proposed the reduction of the militia force by 20,000 men. Under his scheme the infantry would represent altogether 150,000 men, made up of 116,000 regulars serving with the colors, 10,000 regulars serving with the colors, 70,000 army reserve men and 30,000 militia.

GUATEMALA INVADED.

Salvadoran Troops Defeated and Commander-in-Chief Killed.

PANAMA, July 12.—Senor Barrios the foreign minister of Guatemala, cabled to the Panama government this afternoon as follows:

"The Salvadoran government has invaded Guatemalan territory, compelling us to make an energetic defense. We obtained a complete victory yesterday at Jicaro, where General Thomas Regalado, the chief commander of the Salvadoran army, was killed. General Regalado was formerly president of Salvador, and was a candidate for the presidency for the next period."

KILLED BY HIS SISTER.

Had Slain False "Prophet" of Sect Called Holy Rollers.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 12.—George Mitchell was shot and killed tonight by his sister Esther, to avenge whose honor he had become a murderer. The shooting took place in the Union station, while two brothers and their aged father looked on in horror. The girl was arrested and the others are held as witnesses.

The affair is one of the most tragic in the history of the Northwest. George Mitchell recently shot and killed Pranze Edmund Creffield, who styled himself a prophet of a sect known as the "Holy Rollers." Creffield had gathered together a number of followers, and his services were marked by the most revolting and immoral orgies. He accomplished the ruin of Esther Mitchell, among others, and George Mitchell sought him out and killed him.

Mitchell recently was acquitted by a jury of the crime of murder, and completely vindicated, in addition, the people of Corvallis, O., the scene of Creffield's proselyting, presented to him a medal for ridding them of the "prophet" and furnished funds for his defense.

INVESTIGATION AT CRAMPS.

Boiler Coverings of Battleships Said to be Defective.

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—Defects in the coverings of the boilers in the Colorado and Pennsylvania, built at Cramps shipyard, have formed the basis for an official investigation by the Navy Department, which was concluded today. Those on the board of investigation were Rear Admiral Sigsbee, Captain Ward, Captain Winslow and Captain Bailey. Admiral Sigsbee will leave for Washington in the morning and the report will be turned into the Navy Department.

Admiral Sigsbee said tonight: "We have finished our work and are ready to make our report. It would be a breach of etiquette for me to discuss our findings in advance. We have merely acted as a board of investigation, such as is always appointed when it is desired to find out why some particular thing exists."

GOLF CHAMPION BEATEN.

Egan of Chicago Put Out by Lyon of Canada at Englewood.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The American amateur golf champion for two years and the present Western amateur title holder, H. Chandler Egan of Chicago, was beaten in the second round at the Englewood Golf Club today. There were no records broken in the match that marked his downfall, and George S. Lyon of Toronto, who put him out, was as surprised at the finish as any one on the links. Lyon was 1 up and 7 to play, yet Egan was 1 up at the seventeenth and losing the home hole, the Western player only went out for good on the second extra hole.

MIDDLETOWN.

(Regular correspondence of the News.)

Aquidneck Grange, No. 30, Patrons of Husbandry, held its regular meeting at the town hall last evening. The first and second degrees were conferred on four candidates. An invitation was received from the Newport Carnival committee, asking Aquidneck Grange to participate in the float parade. Owing to the large number of undertakings in progress at present, the grange concluded not to be represented in the parade.

Much interest is manifested in the fair for which Aquidneck Grange is working, and there has been much good feeling and desire to co-operate in the enterprise. A large tent will be erected on the lawn on the east side of the town hall, which will seat at least 200, and will be used especially for a dining room. The committee will soon meet to arrange for the booths about the interior of the hall.

A short program of music and reading was given after the Grange had closed the business session, as follows: Singing of "America," reading, "The Liberty Tree," an original poem by Mrs. Walter S. Brown, who was not able to be present and the paper was read by Miss Mary E. Peckham; singing by Mr. John Austin and Mr. Albert C. Young, "Old Black Joe" and "We're Tenting Tonight," followed by the "Star Spangled Banner" by the Grange.

Ice cream and cake were served from small tables decorated with tiny flags. Plates and napkins with flag decorations were used, and the tables looked attractive in their dress. There were 42 present. The next meeting will be children's night, one of the most important of the year, and being an open meeting all children are invited to attend. The arrangements for the entertainment are in charge of Mrs. Elisha A. Peckham and Mrs. J. Willis Peckham.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Dowley have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hazard for a few days. Mr. Dowley has returned to business and Mrs. Dowley is now visiting Mrs. Thomas Tanner in Newport. Miss Muriel Dowley, Mr. and Mrs. Dowley's daughter, is guest of Miss Florence Smith.

The Middletown Cavalcade has been invited to participate in the military parade at Newport, Carnival Week, and will hold a meeting to consider the matter.

Miss Anita Johnson is guest of Miss Nancy Pierce in Fall River this week, and the D. K. U. M. club will meet with Miss Elsie Petzka Monday evening, instead of with Miss Johnson.

Miss Beth A. Peckham is spending a portion of her vacation in South Scituate, as guest of Representative Wilbur and Miss Lena Wilbur.

The postponed meeting of St. Columba's Guild was held this afternoon with Mrs. Edward J. Peckham on Paradise avenue, when arrangements were completed for the Berkeley fair.

Excellent pictures of the interior decorations of the town hall were shown at last evening's meeting of Aquidneck Grange, which were taken on the night of the Washington party, February 22 last, by one of the Grangers. The pages in their Colonial costumes were also photographed.

Rev. John T. Huntington of Hartford, Conn., will preach at the Berkeley Memorial Chapel Sunday morning.

WILL OF MICHAEL ANAGNOS.

The will of Michael Anagnos, superintendent of the Perkins Institution and Massachusetts School for the Blind, has been filed in the Suffolk county, Mass., probate court. The instrument, which gives the Greek name of the deceased in full as Anagnostopoulos, bequeaths the bulk of his estate to public charities for educational purposes. His public bequests will amount to at least $24,000. His will was made February 20 last, and he died abroad June 26.

His chief gift is of the residue of his estate, which will amount to at least $20,000, to the founding of a Latin school at Koritza or Janina, Turkey, and to help the Kallnelan free school for girls at Paplugon, Turkey.

He gives his house, 95 and 97 H street, South Boston, to the Kindergarten for the blind in Jamaica Plain; his books to the board of managers of the Kallnelan schools of Paplugon, Turkey, and his household furniture and articles and jewelry to the Perkins Institution and Massachusetts School for the Blind.

Besides these gifts he left personal legacies of about $10,000, among the latter $5,000 to his brother Christodoulos Anagnostopoulos of Paplugon, and $1,000 each to his nieces, Amelia J. Sapsopoulos and Ellen C. Skouzlis of the same place. The Turkish school bequests are left in trust with Wallace F. Pierce, Robert H. Gardiner and Walworth Pierce.

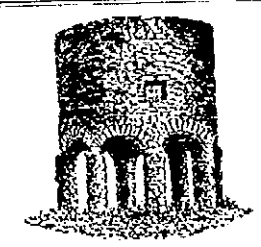

For the first 10 years after his death one-sixth of the net income is to be paid to the board of managers of the Kallnelan free school for girls and the remaining five-sixths to be applied as his trustees see fit to the maintenance of a Latin school at either Koritza or Janina for the free education of youths without distinction of race, creed, color or social condition.

At the end of 10 years the free school for girls is to have one-sixth of the fund outright, while his trustees are to devote the balance of the trust fund to the permanent establishment and maintenance of such Latin school.

Through this extraordinary sale the public are given a chance to buy at the same price as the great retail piano merchants.

WORLD FAMOUS MAKES AT SENSATIONAL PRICE REDUCTION.

Extremely easy terms offered to all. Entire stock must go in the short time remaining.

OPEN EVENINGS. 162 THAMES ST.

Every home should have a piano. A good piano. Most people have secured a good piano only by saving on other necessities and therefore at great inconvenience to themselves. Some people have purchased a second hand piano of reliable make rather than take an inferior make of new piano. There is no need of your resorting to either.

THIS SALE MAKES PIANO BUYING EASY.

The prices and terms offered at this great introductory factory cost sale make it easy to own a piano. Here are the finest makes in the world, Hallet & Davis, Kimball, at prices usually asked for inferior instruments and also the Cable & Sons, and Wellman, the finest of the inexpensively cased pianos.

If you have been looking for a bargain in one of the good old reliable pianos, or even one of the best medium pianos and have been putting the matter off on account of price, and terms, or for any other reason, you will have during the next two weeks the best opportunity ever presented to gratify your wishes, and furnish the home and family with a good piano at lower prices and on easier terms than you ever dreamed of seeing.

WHAT THIS SALE MEANS to YOU AND to US

We have filled our Newport store with instruments and intend to sell every one within two weeks. To do this we have made this novel plan of manufacturer's cost selling, something new, and presenting an unquestionable saving.

HERE IS THE PLAN.

We have marked every instrument at the manufacturer's cost, and this enables you to buy a piano just the same as if you were in the business, and bought thousands of dollars worth of instruments of us in a year. We have been manufacturing leading pianos for 67 years, and our plan of selling is the lowest retail known so is our cost of manufacture lower in proportion. All this experience is to your extra advantage.

WORLD FAMOUS MAKES.

Besides the Hallet & Davis pianos, we will include our entire line, Kimball pianos (made by the richest piano house in the world), Cable & Sons, and Wellman. Best Makes of piano players, and player pianos.

You must see

COLONIAL IN DESIGN.

Silver Centrepiece and Salver for Battleship Rhode Island Elaborated With Features Peculiar to State.

The design which has been selected by the committee, of which Senator Wetmore is chairman, for the centrepiece and salver of the silver service to be given by the people of Rhode Island to battleship Rhode Island, is Colonial in character and elaborated with features peculiar to the state of Rhode Island.

The centrepiece is 15 inches in height and 26 inches in diameter, including the handles. At the top of the centrepiece the eagle is applied, giving a national character to the piece. On one side, back of the handle, appears the seal of the United States navy, while back of the opposite handle appears the seal of the state. The panel on the obverse of the centrepiece is etched with the familiar scene of the landing of Roger Williams, on either side of which appear the portraits of Oliver H. Perry and Esek Hopkins. On the reverse side of the centrepiece, in the panel, appears the Old Stone Mill at Newport, on either side of which appear the portraits of Matthew C. Perry and Admiral Whipple.

In decorative effect around the shields and under the portraits is shown the rhododendron, so common in the southern part of the state, while the handles are formed by finely modelled turkeys' heads. At the bottom of the bowl proper is chased a wave decoration leading down to the foot, where large dolphins, clams and seaweed form a decorative foot, which continues the suggestion of the sea and of the state of Rhode Island. The piece will be massive in weight, gold lined and will make a piece of art silver of which Rhode Island may well be proud.

The platter is 28 inches in diameter, including the handles, and in design is in keeping with the centrepiece. The bottom of the piece is etched with the historical scene of the burning of the Gaspee, while the handles are decorated with the wild grapes, suggestive of the fact that the discoverers of this state found and carried away wild grapes on their first voyage.

The rhododendron, with the navy seal on one side of the flange of the platter, with a similar decoration, including the state seal, opposite, form a consistent part of the design, while the clams and seaweed shown on the flange above and below the scene make this piece suggestively appropriate for the purpose for which it is designed.

The contributions to date amount to about $1,000. The committee announced when the subscription was started two or three weeks ago that it desired to raise between $6,000 and $10,000 for this purpose, and the response has been more prompt than was expected. Contributions continue to come in, both in small and large sums, showing the interest which is being taken in the tribute.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Friends' Church met with Mrs. George S. Sherman Thursday afternoon. The meeting was held on the lawn, which proved, even though the afternoon was hot, a cool and shady retreat, where many varieties of industry, were carried on, among them being the knotting of a comforter. Supper was served before the fog came in after which the lawn party adjourned to the parlor, where a musicale was given. Miss Frankie Learned of Fall River, one of the quartet at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, furnishing the vocal music and Mrs. Benjamin Greene accompanying on the piano, and afterwards giving "Strains from the Rocky Mountains," "Time Time" and "The Robin's Return." Miss Learned sang "My King," "Good Night, Little Girl," "The Strength of the Hills," "Sing Me to Sleep," "Face to Face" and "Whisper and I Shall Hear."

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its fortnightly meeting this week with Mrs. George R. Hicks, Bristol Ferry. Mrs. Mary Lynch, who is a teacher in Mrs. Thorp's school in Boston for children deficient in expression, gave an interesting account of the means taken to bring out and develop the dormant powers of those so unfortunate.

Mrs. J. K. Harney of Providence will speak next Sunday morning and evening in the Central Baptist Church, Tiverton. Her subject in the evening will be "The Story of the White Ribbon Around the World."

There is to be a lawn party in the town each week of the month. Next week, the Methodists are preparing for one and will do all in their power to equal any given before or coming after.

Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Greene have returned from a visit to Provincetown, where they went for the Fourth, to visit Rev. William H. Allen and family, their granddaughter, Miss Helen Allen returning with them to spend the summer. After being successfully graduated from high school, she has taken a year's rest and will enter Boston University next fall.

Dr. Greene had his medicine case stolen on Wednesday. He started with it to visit Mr. David Coggeshall, but at the Newtown electric station hearing of his death he decided to go at once to Providence, and left his case in the station, which according to arrangement was to be called for by a member of his family. In the course of an hour or so it was sent for, but it was gone and has not been seen since. Besides the loss, the inconvenience is very great.

Miss Marguerite Holman has passed a successful examination for the R. M. C. Durfee High School, Fall River.

Miss Lily Wheeler instead of Miss Hattie Wheeler had charge of the souvenir table at St. Paul's lawn party in conjunction with Miss Allen Anthony, and Miss Sadie Chase sold the ice cream tickets.

A number of people from Portsmouth and Middletown attended the postponed races at Remlville.

Mrs. Arthur Brigham entertained early this week a party of relatives in honor of the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Charles Caswell.

Miss Edith Caswell of Jamestown, who has been visiting relatives here, has returned home.

Miss Harriet Wheeler of Bristol Ferry has had as guests the Misses Sheldon of Pawtuxet and Mr. Frank Seabury of Danvers.

PERSONALS.

....Leading Democrats of Nebraska are making arrangements for a special train of Pullman sleepers to go to New York for the reception in honor of William Jennings Bryan. The trip will be arranged so that the Nebraskans may reach New York August 31. The leaders of the movement expect to take about 300 "home folks," who will greet Mr. Bryan when he steps on the pier.

....Eugenie, former Empress of France, has arrived at Ischl, Austria, and was met by Emperor Francis Joseph and the Grand Duchess Marie Valerie. Before going to Ischl the ex-empress asked the emperor's permission in writing, saying: "Being near death, I request that Your Majesty grant me the opportunity to see you once more, in order that I may thank you for all the kindnesses you have shown me."

....A portrait of the late Thomas B. Reed has been hung in the rotunda of the state house, Augusta, Me. This portrait, by Frederick Vinton of Boston, was presented to the state by Mrs. Reed. It is considered an excellent likeness of the late statesman, and, with the exception of a painting by Sargent, which hangs in the rotunda in Washington with the other portraits of Speakers of the House, is the only painting of him extant. Mr. Vinton, who was a personal friend of Mr. Reed, painted the picture from memory and from photographs.

....Encouraged by the rehabilitation of Captain Dreyfus, Alphonse Bazaine, who was sponsored at his christening by old Queen Isabella of Spain and by King Alphonso XII and has served with distinction in the Spanish army, in which he now holds the rank of colonel, has instituted proceedings in France to clear the reputation of his father, the French field marshal who surrendered the stronghold of Metz, with a splendidly equipped army of nearly 200,000 men, to the Germans in 1870. Colonel Bazaine has retained Maitre Leveron, one of the leaders of the French bar, and another eminent lawyer of Nimes, to take charge of the case, and has entrusted to their care documents of extraordinary importance, which if it is said have been held until now, only because it was considered that the time was not ripe for obtaining a calm and dispassionate review of the affair.

I'll remember, I'll remember,
If possibly I can,
To get a rake and garden hoe,
Also a watering can.
A lawn machine I'll not forget
This evening to bring down,
Although I know I'll have to lend
It to our neighbor, Brown.

I'll remember, I'll remember,
To buy a leg of lamb,
Some ribs of beef, some mutton chops,
A chicken and a ham.
Please put in writing what you want
Of ribbons and what shade;
How many pins and needles, too
And how much tape and braid.

I'll remember, I'll remember,
At least I'll do my best.
Though you'll admit the task will put
My memory to a test.
Then, sotto voce, to himself,
The brute says, "Never fear!
I will remember not to take
A country house next year."

THE PREPARATION OF FOOD.

The more investigation there is into the preparation of food, the more evident it becomes that the Chicago packers are not sinners above other men in a like line of business, nor are the men who prepare food today worse than those who prepared food for our parents. But we are more fastidious—and properly so—about the conditions under which our diet is compounded. Our ancestors used to say resignedly that every man had to eat his peck of dirt some time, and they didn't make much fuss about it when it came. We do. We don't intend to eat a peck of dirt if we can help it.

The exposure of the packing houses led to investigations in several of our large cities, and conditions in most of their slaughter houses were found reprehensible. The London Lancet admitted that much English meat was prepared under such conditions that it was worse than most of the imported meats. British fare, which is almost the staff of life over there—it is spread on the staff of life every morning by the whole nation—has been repeatedly shown to be largely fictitious, and the small amount of truth used in compounding it has often been found spoiled. How often it has been spoiled and the fact was not known, no man knows. Three or four years ago 11 tons of fermented berries were condemned in one consign. There have just been fresh disclosures and condemnations.

Bakeries in our cities are being inspected, with discoveries which have been made often every time municipal sanitary authorities start out to look. In the great city many of the small bakeries are in unventilated cellars, the workmen do not keep themselves clean and sleep on the tables where the dough is handled. But we do not propose to submit to these things. Some time we shall have clean bakeries and sausage factories will not look like tanneries or rendering establishments.

THE ENGLISH WEEK-END.

A peculiar development of English social life is the week-end cottage craze. It is a result of the fondness for outdoor life, which is growing among the English despite the fact that they have always had a love for the open air. The fad is to have a country place, large or small, to which retreat can be made at the end of the week from the noise and confinement of the city, so that Sunday can be spent in the open air. Some of these estates are of course on a magnificent scale, with big houses, extensive grounds and all the accessories of a country place of the generous proportions of the old properties of former days outside the cities, but the craze has spread so widely that even those of small means make their week-end exit from London to some dilapidated old cottage which they have found not too far distant and have remodled into something like habitable condition, so that the owner and his guests may spend Sunday outside the city.

An interesting result of this new fad is the fact that the demand for houses which can be put to this use has driven not a few laborers in the smaller villages from their homes. Landlords have had the opportunity to dispose of their property of this kind to good advantage, to satisfy the call for week-end cottages, and have sold or rented the houses for such occupancy, driving out the tenants of the laboring class who before were the occupants. In this manner cottage after cottage which was considered valuable only as a place to house farm hands has been taken from the latter and turned over to city dwellers, to be used as a week-end residence.

This peculiar development is most marked about London and is so extensive there that within a radius of 50 miles of that city so many laborers' cottages have been taken for this purpose that the farm hands have been obliged to find refuge in the barns, because of inability to secure homes of any other sort. If the fad continues to grow they may yet be driven even from the barns, for the craze can be satisfied only with a cottage that is half decayed and almost uninhabitable, so that it may appear to be ancient and more country-like. There would be a fine field for the erection of new houses for week-end use if it were not for this requirement and the utter refusal to use for this purpose dwellings that are modern and comfortable.

This is a phase of that craving which is growing upon us all, to get back at times to the primitive life, to throw aside the superfluities which have grown up around us with the increase and development of civilization, and to live more nearly as did the early inhabitants of the soil. We tire at times of the conventionalities of city life and long for the greater freedom of the country, and to emphasize the contrast strip ourselves of many of the things which we call necessities at home and endure what there would be regarded as privations. The English week-end cottage craze in its present form is probably only a fad and not destined to long continuance, but as the expression of a longing for retreat from the city to the country it will doubtless find some other form when the present one has lost its charm, and the fact will remain that people who can will tear themselves away from the crowded cities and late themselves to the quiet open country for the enjoyment of even brief respites from accustomed surroundings and cares. And that is the main thing, the method of accomplishing the result being of little moment.

TRAINING FARMERS' GIRLS.

There is scarcely a farming community anywhere which has not suffered from the tendency of the girls of the household to leave what they consider the drudgery of the farm and go to the cities, to engage in what they consider superior work in the stores, but which they soon find to be but another form of drudgery, without the advantage of home life and associations. So marked is this disposition on the part of girls that the need of doing something to counteract it has impressed itself upon those who are particularly interested. The most effective method to accomplish this is to instruct farmers' girls in the work of the farm, at the same time trying to instill in them a love for such employment and an ambition to do their best at it and to make it a success.

In this country, with the exception of the agricultural departments of some of the larger universities and a few agricultural colleges, there are practically no opportunities for acquiring such an education, but they do things differently along this line in some other countries. In Belgium the government has taken up the work of teaching farming to women, and the result is reported to be a greater love for the industry on the part of the women and a great decrease in the exodus of girls from the farms to the cities, the stopping of which was the main object of the work begun by the government. State schools are established for this instruction and girls from 15 years upward are taken as pupils and given ten months of practical training in all branches of farm life for women.

The schools are divided into three different departments—the housekeeping section, which teaches the elements of agriculture, dairy farming, housekeeping and accounts; the domestic economy schools, which give a normal professional education to girls who intend to lead an agricultural life, and the agricultural high schools, for girls who want an education as complete as to enable them to undertake the management of large farms or to teach in agricultural schools of domestic economy. The instruction is absolutely free, only board being charged to the pupils, and the schools are well attended, showing that after all there is a love for farm life if it is only directed and cultivated.

The students at these institutions are divided into four groups. One looks after the cattle and poultry, milks the cows, prepares the food for the animals and calculates its cost; another has charge of the dairy work and makes the cheese; the third takes care of the garden, cultivates vegetables, prunes fruit trees and works in the apiary, and the fourth does all the household work. These sections are of course changed at stated periods, so that all the girls before they complete their course have had practical experience and training in every department of woman's work on a farm.

This is a valuable institution, and something of the same sort is needed in every country to keep girls on the farms and away from the cities. If no attention is paid to the matter of instructing them in farm work and cultivating a love for it they will catch the city fever and drift away from home into worse conditions than they find on the farms. Beside, they are needed on the farms. Many rural homes are handicapped by the lack of intelligent women workers and girls trained for the work would be worth their weight in gold in the management and maintenance of the farm.

The decision of the court in the Dreyfus case is a scathing condemnation of the French army management of a dozen years ago. The prosecution—or rather persecution—of Dreyfus was a deliberate lie from beginning to end and a disgrace to the country which permitted it. Though Dreyfus has now been honorably acquitted of every charge of dishonor and will be restored to full rank in the French army, this will not atone for the years of degradation to which he has been subjected. France yet owes much to Dreyfus.

Henry Watterson remarked recently that "the more upright and honorable men of the Democratic party do not intend, if they can help it, to have any aspirant show himself in the next national convention able and willing to buy the hotels, the hall, the mob, and the brass bands, producing confusion and ending in a split, or the appearance of a split." Mr. Hearst's announcement that he is not an aspirant may be due to the fact that he understands this as well as Colonel Watterson does.

William E. Chandler endorses the suggestion of Winston Churchill as the Republican candidate for governor of New Hampshire. There was a time when Mr. Chandler's approval meant the success of any movement in New Hampshire politics, but today he is scarcely a factor of moment. He may, or may not, help Churchill's chances.

The announcement is made that President Roosevelt will keep his hands off the factional fight in the Republican party in New York. Mr. Roosevelt must be losing interest in the gubernatorial contest in his state, for he can hardly keep out of anything in which he is interested.

Thaw protests that he is not insane and his lawyers will offer this in court as the strongest evidence that he is.

The corn crop of the United States equals in bushels what the war debt of the country reached in dollars.

Bryan says he has given up silver as the chief issue of the Democratic party.

DEMURRER FILED IN STONE BRIDGE CASE.

The hearing on the petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the attorney general to sign a bill of complaint against the Stone Bridge commissioners, which was scheduled for this morning in the superior court, was continued one week.

Mr. Greenough has filed a demurrer to the petition, in which he contends that the superior court is without jurisdiction to entertain or pass upon the matter, and that the petitioner, under the allegations contained in the petition, has no such legal interest as to enable him to maintain his petition.

Replying to the application for the writ Mr. Greenough has written a letter to Walter B. Vincent, attorney for Charles H. Carter, the petitioner, in which he states that, as he appeared for the commissioners in another phase of the same controversy, which is still before the court, he regarded this as ancillary to the present litigation.

The letter continues as follows: "I do not consider that it would be proper, or that I am in any way legally required, to appear on both sides of the same case, even formally, as would be necessary in the event of the proposed bill being brought in my name in accordance with the request.

"From my knowledge of the facts and for various other reasons I fail to see how the rights of a taxpayer of the state of Rhode Island can in any way be affected by a decision on the supposed question raised in the bill. Nor can I see how any taxpayer as such can have any legal interest which would entitle him to obtain such a decision of the court in the premises. The proceedings are, moreover, clearly ancillary to the controversy concerning which the case of Augustus Smith against Charles Alexander and others is now pending before the United States circuit court."

This case brings up the question of whether a taxpayer of the state is concerned or can have any legal interest in a matter concerning some particular town of the state. Mr. Greenough's opinion, as set forth in his letter, is that such taxpayer can have no such interest, and that he is not entitled to seek a decision from the court on the matter.

VEGETARIAN HABIT.

Vegetarianism seems to be a habit among certain races. An English and a native regiment were marching through a barren region in India, and both were fed on rice. The English had the greater portion of rice, allowing the natives only the water in which the rice was boiled. After a few weeks the European soldiers on their rice had become gaunt and weary, while the Indian soldiers on their rice water remained full of health and vigor.

Narragansett Assembly Summer School Program.

Providence Woman Sets Fire to Her House—Died from Lockjaw.

The Narragansett Assembly, called in the prospectus "a summer school of methods for the young people's societies of Rhode Island," will begin an eight-day session July 28 at East Greenwich Academy. The purpose of the school, whose organization is in the hands of several ministers of the state, is the bringing together of those who are interested in young people's societies, missionary work, Bible study and the like, and while giving them a pleasant vacation at the same time instructing them in helpful branches of study connected with these subjects. The program for the study classes, to be held each forenoon, includes classes in mission study, Bible study and personal work, which will be conducted by noted religious workers from various parts of the country. William E. Witter, D. D., New England district secretary of the American Baptist Missionary Union, who will lecture this summer at the conferences at Lake Geneva and Silver Bay, will conduct the mission classes, and S. M. Sayford, prominent in Young Men's Christian Association circles, will have charge of the classes in personal work. Miss Martha Hixson of New York, identified with young people's work in the great assemblies at Silver Bay and elsewhere, is another of the instructors. F. J. McConnell of Brooklyn will preside over the classes in Bible study.

Crazed by liquor and "picked upon" by her son and women lodgers, Alice Jones, 60 years of age, has admitted, so the police state, that she set three fires in her home at 121 Pine street, Providence, yesterday. She was arrested yesterday afternoon and taken to the Central Police Station, where she was booked as a suspicious person and locked up. At first she refused to talk, but when she found herself interviewed by detectives she began to waver and finally told the whole story. The woman admitted that three of the fires in her house were started by her, and that she had an insane desire to burn the building. She claimed that she had been drinking heavily and did not know what she was doing. Mrs. Jones said that during the early part of the day the other women in the building had been picking upon her, and that her son found fault with her when he came home to dinner. She did not appear to realize the seriousness of the charge that may be brought against her. She insisted that the first fire was purely accidental, that an oil stove set fire to the wall paper and the woodwork in the kitchen. It is believed by the police that it was the accidental fire which put the notion into the woman's head to attempt to burn the building.

John McCabe of Glendale, the 12-year-old son of Town Clerk John H. McCabe of Burrillville, died yesterday afternoon at his parents' home in Glendale, from lockjaw, resulting from injuries to his left hand sustained on the night before the Fourth of July by a premature explosion of a blank cartridge pistol, with which he was celebrating. The injury was near the thumb of the hand and the little victim realized from the time of the accident that he was in danger of lockjaw. Tuesday last three physicians who had been called into consultation decided that the lad had lockjaw and had but little chance of recovery. Wednesday afternoon he grew worse and during the night the attendants were obliged to resort to the use of chloroform in order to alleviate his sufferings. He lapsed into unconsciousness early Wednesday morning and passed away yesterday afternoon.

The ecclesiastical council, composed of ministers of Congregational churches of Providence and surrounding cities and towns, held a meeting in the Riverside Congregational Church yesterday afternoon for the purpose of taking action on the resignation of Rev. Thomas F. Norris, pastor of the church. The meeting was called to order by Rev. James H. Lyon of Pawtucket, and Rev. C. H. Gordon of East Providence was appointed clerk. Representatives were present from the Beneficent, Union, Central, Free Evangelical Churches of Providence, First Congregational and Smithfield Churches of Pawtucket, First Congregational Church of Central Falls, Edgewood, Bristol and Barrington churches and the Newman and Union Churches of East Providence. Resolutions drawn up by members of the church were read and the council adopted resolutions in regard to the good work of Rev. Mr. Norris while serving as pastor of the Pilgrim. The resignation of Rev. Mr. Norris, who is well known throughout the state, being chaplain of the Department of Rhode Island of the Grand Army of the Republic, was brought about after several special meetings of the church members. Rev. Mr. Norris has been pastor of the Riverside Congregational Church for several years and during that time the edifice has been enlarged and greatly improved, largely through his efforts. Rev. Mr. Norris's action was not of his own initiative, but was deemed necessary by him after the object of the several meetings by the church members were made known to him. No charges were preferred against the minister, but the church members have decided that a change must be made, and Mr. Norris's resignation will take effect August 9.

The gray squirrels which were recently turned loose among the elms of the middle campus of Brown University have disappeared, and the superintendent of grounds and buildings is wondering whether the failure of his attempt to raise a family of the animals is due to the depredations of East Side beasts of prey or whether the squirrels found the atmosphere of learning uncongenial to their spirits. Success has attended their introduction in the precincts of other colleges and the superintendent saw no reason why if the gray and the blue lived in harmony at New Haven the gray and brown shouldn't be able to rub along in Providence. He took special precautions to prepare his rodent Adam and Eve for their sojourn in his Garden of Eden on the hill, having a large cage especially constructed for their domicile until they should have become mentally acclimated. A few days ago he decided that the time was ripe to set them at large, and accordingly opened the doors of the cage. For a while the squirrels played about in the branches of the elms, and then suddenly one morning disappeared. Since then the superintendent has been asking himself whether the pair tasted of the apple of the tree of knowledge and set out for the pristine wilderness on their own account, or whether the serpent in the case was a marauding feline, which took part in the gastronomic exercises and did not confine itself to the consumption of apples.

The biggest swordfish that has been caught this season off Seaconnet was brought to the Seaconnet Point wharf Wednesday afternoon in the big sailboat T. A. B., by Captain Thomas A. Buell. To Peter Blockinger belongs the honor of first sighting the big fish and of sending the harpoon into it with such good aim and force that an hour's struggle by the fish failed to wrest the barb from its side. The swordfish weighed nearly 225 pounds and was over 10 feet long from its tail to the tip of its long and handsome sword.

CONTRACTS FOR ARMOR.

Given to Midvale Concern and Carnegie and Bethlehem Companies.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Secretary Bonaparte announced today that the Carnegie and Bethlehem Steel companies will be given the contract for the armor for one of the new 16,000 ton battleships, at the price named by the Midvale Steel Company in their bid. The contract for the armor for the other battleship will go to the Midvale company. The Carnegie and Bethlehem companies are to share equally in the contract given to them.

MOODY TO GO TO BOSTON.

Will Take Up His Headquarters There for Remainder of Summer.

BOSTON, July 13.—Attorney General Moody will transfer his headquarters from Washington to Boston and will be in Boston for the remainder of the summer, according to an announcement made here today. He was expected here today, but was detained in New York in consultation with district attorneys in connection with the department's investigation of the oil combine. While in this city the Attorney General will make his headquarters at the offices of his private law firm, Moody, Burdett, Wardwell & Snow, 31 State street.

TOURISTS MAKE EARLY START.

Contestants Prepare for Second Day's Run in Endurance Contest.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 13.—The Glidden tourists were astir early this morning, preparing for the second day's run in the endurance contest. The starting place was the Osborne House, which had been headquarters, and Fred Wagner, the official starter, sent the cars away as rapidly as possible. The pilot cars left shortly after 5 o'clock. Dr. C. H. Bennett guided the pilots to Syracuse.

The first car to get away was that of Charles J. Glidden, and the other cars followed as rapidly as it was possible to get them away. At 5:50 the patrol car, which is to pick up the checkers and assist the unfortunate, pulled out and with it went the last of the tourists. Last night the tourists were the guests of the Auburn Automobile Association. There were not any special incidents attending the start this morning. Utica is the next stopping place.

GLIDDEN FIRST ARRIVAL.

Tourists Start From Syracuse For Utica.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 13.—Charles J. Glidden was the first arrival at Syracuse, checking at 8:33 a. m. Benjamin Knowles of New York, Theodore E. Schultz of Cleveland, Ohio, William F. Wright of Springfield, Mass., and William Burke of New York, following closely in the order named. The other machines came along about a minute apart and all left for Utica.

GLIDDEN IN THE LEAD.

Contestants Will Stop at Utica for the Night.

UTICA, N. Y., July 13.—Charles J. Glidden, riding with Augustus Post, was the first of the Glidden tourists to arrive here, checking 11:20 a. m. Benjamin Knowles of New York followed in two minutes, and the other cars came along at intervals of about two minutes. No accidents were reported on the run from Auburn, and the tourists will stop here for the night.

Reported by Wireless.

NANTUCKET, Mass., July 13.—Steamer Campania, from Liverpool and Queenstown for New York, was in communication by wireless with the station here, when 150 miles east of Nantucket lightship at 8:40 a. m. The Campania will probably reach her dock about 7:30 a. m. Saturday.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Steamer Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, from Hamburg, etc., for New York, was reported by wireless 885 miles east of Sandy Hook, at noon on the 12th. Will probably reach her dock about 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Mr. C. H. Thorpe of Hartford, Conn., is in town for a brief stay.

The Bay View will hold its first hop of the season this evening.

The second of the serial races of the Yacht Club will be held this evening.

Owing to the inability to secure the right of way through some of the property necessary, the work of constructing the telegraph line across the island from Boston Neck to Newport has been discontinued.

Schooner yacht Valmore of Providence was anchored in the harbor last evening.

A. O'D. Taylor has rented for P. H. Morgan his furnished cottage at the corner of Walcott avenue to Mrs. J. C. Van Riper of St. Louis, for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ward and W. L. Evans of New York, Mrs. N. D. Pettit of Toledo, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. W. Catto of Nahant, Mass., and G. Gunway of Philadelphia are among the latest arrivals at The Thorndike.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Denison, Miss Denison and Mrs. E. A. Poe of Baltimore, Mrs. Joseph Balch of Providence, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Clover of St. Louis and Mrs. G. H. Clark, Jr., of Newark are registered at the Gardner House.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Severance and Miss M. C. Severance of Turner's Falls, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Fellows of Quincy, Mass., Mrs. Kayser of St. Louis, A. E. Lassen of New York and A. C. Gardiner of Providence are registered at the Bay View House.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bleecker arrived yesterday afternoon and are spending a portion of their honeymoon with Admiral and Mrs. Bleecker at their cottage on the Dumplings.

An unusually large number of bathers were on Knowles's beach this morning, several of the young men showing their skill at high diving by utilizing the upper deck of steamer Gypsy. The past few fine days have made the place like an Hveller look, and from present indications there will be a large number of arrivals in the next few days.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

Hannah Hord and others have sold to Annie McIlsstom, wife of Charles Gulun, the Hord estate bounded north on Bridge street, east on the land of John A. Leary, west on land of William C. Langley and south on land of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

Edward W. Openshaw has sold to his wife, Katherine G. Openshaw the estate bounded north on Prospect Hill street, east on land of T. H. Henderson, south on lands of M. R. Cannody and Joseph Martin and west on Martin street.

—Between the weather and the circus and the band concert, and more especially because of the weather, the excursion to Rocky Point over the Providence electric road, last evening suffered.

—It is now expected that the Eleventh siege battery will start for the West next Monday. Some of the Pullman cars for the trip have been here more than a week and some of the regular box and flat cars will be used to fill out the train.

—The Newport Military Band gave its first Touro Park concert of the summer last evening, and in spite of other attractions a large number assembled to listen to the music. The program was suited to a variety of musical tastes and hearty applause greeted the conclusion of each number.

—Marie von Unschuld, the Roumanian pianist who made many friends here during the past two summers, has returned this year for a longer sojourn. She traveled during the winter on a six weeks' concert tour in the West and was well received everywhere. She intends to give two recitals in Newport during the present season.

assert that fierce reprisals are about to begin. The Figaro, however, appears to those who were prominent in obtaining a revision of Dreyfus' trial not to attempt to obtain vengeance. The Echo asserts that the acquittal of Dreyfus means that politicians have seized the judiciary. The prevailing tone of the press testified to the scrupulous integrity of the court, and hails its decision as a triumph of justice.

DEUTSCHLAND DISABLED.

Collided With Prince of Wales Pier and Twisted Her Stem.

DOVER, England, July 13.—Hamburg-American line steamer Deutschland, from Hamburg yesterday via Dover and Cherbourg for New York, while leaving Dover this morning collided with the Prince of Wales pier and twisted her stem. The steamer immediately anchored off the Admiralty pier to investigate the extent of the damage she had sustained, and it was found to be so great that she was unable to proceed and must be docked for repairs.

It became known later that the bow of the Deutschland buckled as a result of the collision, which, it is believed, was due to an error in the engine room.

The passengers and mails are being landed and sent to Southampton, where they will be taken on board the American line steamer New York.

POOR AMERICAN LEATHER.

Great Britain Complains of Flimsy Shoes Put on the Market.

BRISTOL, England, July 13.—The alleged adulteration of American leather was the principal topic of discussion at today's closing session of the yearly conference of the Royal Sanitary Institute. Speakers averred that Great Britain imported from America in 1905 leather so impregnated with epsom salts and glucose that the country paid $120,000 for what cost $15,000. The public health it was added, suffered owing to the flimsy shoes put on the market.

ASSASSIN STILL AT LARGE.

Slayer of Choukain Said to be Girl Disguised as Sailor.

SEVASTOPOL, Russia, July 13.—It is credibly stated that the assassin of Admiral Choukain, commander of the Black sea fleet, was a girl disguised in the uniform of a sailor. No arrest has yet been made.

After Admiral Choukain had become unconscious the following telegram was received from the emperor:

"I am deeply grieved at this second infamous attempt on the life of a devoted servant of the throne and fatherland, who so bravely defended the discipline of my Black sea fleet. May God restore you to health."

The night before his assassination, the admiral received a warning from the terrorists that the sentence of death imposed upon him "for the murder of Lieutenant Schmidt" which had been postponed, was about to be carried out.

DEATH OF POLITICAL LEADER.

Resident of Fall River and Well Known in Southeastern Massachusetts.

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 13.—Samuel E. Fiske, widely known in political circles in southeastern Massachusetts, died at his home in this city today, aged 64. He was a native of Claremont, N. H., but has been a resident of Fall River since 1869, where he carried on a job-printing establishment. He had played a prominent part in Republican politics for 30 years and conducted many spectacular campaigns for candidates in whose interests he might be working.

For a very long period Mr. Fiske was a power in most of the country towns of the county, where his acquaintance was very large and his influence, at one time, more potential than that of any other individual in this section of the state, when it came to the mater of delivering votes and delegates from those communities on behalf of his candidate when a political contest was being waged. He leaves a widow and two daughters. His funeral will take place at 1 p. m. Monday.

CROWD AROUND TOMBS PRISON.

Mrs. Thaw Had to be Guarded by Police on Way to Cab.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Mrs. Harry K. Thaw, after her visit to her husband today, had great difficulty in making her way from the doorway of the Tombs prison to her cab. A large crowd had assembled, and Mrs. Thaw had to be guarded by policemen as she made her way to her cab.

GUATEMALANS TRIUMPHANT.

Gain a Complete Victory Over the Salvadorean Invading Forces.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Senor Munoz, the Guatemalan minister here, today received the following cablegram from Secretary of State Barrios, dated at Guatemala City yesterday:

"Complete triumph of Guatemalan army over Salvadorean invading forces. Salvadorean General-in-Chief Tomas Regalado killed yesterday at El Jicaro."

At the instance of the State Department, the Navy Department today cabled to Commander Mulligan, of the Marblehead, at Panama, to proceed immediately to La Libertad on the coast of Salvador, to safeguard American interests.

A cablegram received at the State Department today from Minister Merry at San Salvador, states that continuous fighting is proceeding on the border line between Guatemala and Salvador; also that the Guatemalan troops have crossed the line into Honduras.

This latter is understood here to be part of the Guatemalan attack on the fugitives of Regalado's army, a ter that leader was killed yesterday.

Ammunition Found On Steamers.

HAMBURG, July 13.—The Echo Hamburger Zeitung today says that two foreign steamers which were leaving Memel, Prussia, were detained and searched by Russian cruisers, and that 80,000 cartridges and a quantity of dynamite were found on board the steamers.

OVERCOME BY FUMES.

Bursting of Ammonia Pipe Imperils Lives of Passengers.

NEW YORK, July 13.—By the bursting of an ammonia pipe which was struck by a trolley pole of a Brighton Beach train passing under the footbridge connecting the Consumers Brewery with the Consumers Hotel in Flatbush, early today, the lives of 200 passengers were imperiled, and when several were prostrated by the fumes a panic followed. By good fortune, contact with the liquid itself was avoided by the men and women who ran when they smelled the constantly growing odor. The motorman, James McCartland, was unconscious for half an hour through inhaling the fumes, and the engineer of the brewery, Paul Kirschke, was overcome when he tried to stop the flow.

The Brighton Beach "L" leaves the structure forty feet above the Flatbush soil before it comes to the irregular plot of ground between Franklin and Washington avenues, where stands the brewery, separated from the hotel by a narrow roadway, through which runs the track.

Connecting the two buildings about 16 feet off the ground, there is a footbridge, along the bottom of which runs a heavy pipe used for forcing ammonia through to the hotel by the cold storage plant in the brewery.

There is in full pressure kept on this pipe at this time of the year, and when the trolley pole of the first of a five car train slipped off its wire and struck the city pipe, it broke and a heavy stream gushed forth.

As the trolley was off the wire, the cars came to a stop in the darkness. At first, unable to understand the cause of the delay, the passengers, smelling the powerful fumes, leaped from their seats, and covering their faces as best they could, jumped from the platforms or clambered from the windows in their flight.

Unable to pull the trolley into place, McCartland armed himself with a lamp and found that the pole was lodged in the trunk of the place. Kirschke was sent for, and while he was working on the leak, McCartland toppled over, to be followed by the engineer.

Physicians attended several women, who were suffering from hysterics.

CHARGED WITH UNFAIR PLAY.

Japanese Subjects Said to be Favored in Trade Advantages.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Complaints which have been made recently against the supposed discrimination on the part of the Japanese military authorities in Manchuria in favor of Japanese subjects, in allowing them trade advantages denied to merchants from other countries, were answered today in a statement by Counselor Miyaoka, now in charge of the Japanese embassy here.

"We are anxious to learn of specific cases of such unfair play," declared Mr. Miyaoka. "A good deal was heard recently about the irredeemable war notes with which the Japanese army had flooded the country, making trade difficult for the foreigners, but when the matter was investigated, it was found that these notes were above par. That some of the ports have not been opened sooner, is because, as at Dalny, the disembarkation of troops was continuing. It is a fair privilege to the army to perform these military operations unhampered by the presence of ordinary trade obstacles. But whenever a town, such as Mukden, was opened to civilian merchants at all, it was opened on equal footing to the whole world. The Japanese provision merchants who have followed the army, have not been licensed to trade with the native population.

"The trade of Manchuria is a prize worth possessing, however, and the Japanese merchants are certain to do their best to capture it. They have too many natural advantages to need any unfair favors from the government. The lower cost of production and the lower charge for transportation from the home markets, would be sufficient advantage. In addition, the Japanese merchants have a better knowledge of the needs and the ways of the people with whom they trade. They do not establish themselves in treaty ports in residences and maintain a manner of living wholly above that of their customers, but they push out into the country on foot without ostentation, urging their wares in every possible way. The same tremendous activity is going on in southern China. The Japanese people have a heavy war debt to pay; they must prosper commercially in order to pay it.

"In this commercial rivalry with all comers, nevertheless, the imperial Japanese government cannot and will not interfere to the detriment of the policies of the open door in which we are at one with the United States. No exclusive privileges can be granted to Japanese trade without undermining the principles of the open door. No such privileges have been or will be granted. Japan is unalterably committed to the group of nations opposing such exclusive privileges. It is possible that in the course of time, a reciprocity may be negotiated between Japan and Korea. At present, Japan goods enter the country under the Korean tariff on the same terms with all other goods."

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

CARRY SUGGESTION OF EVIL.

Billposters Association to Eliminate Pictures of Devils.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The National Billposters Association, at its meeting held here yesterday, decided to eliminate devils in all forms, from advertising matter distributed by the association. The principal reason given for the action taken was that such pictures suggest evil. H. G. Sanders of Pittsburg made the only objection, saying that his interest lay entirely in his desire to oppose the sacrifice of so large a fund of artistic material as that made available by pictures of his satanic majesty.

Charles Bernard of Chicago, secretary-elect of the association, speaking in a psychological vein, dwelt upon in a psychological vein, dwelt upon the power of suggestion in the minds of youths.

"Suggestion and unconscious imitation are the strongest factors in forming the child mind," he said, "and the accumulated influence of constantly seeing hideous pictures of devils, carrying every suggestion of evil, cannot be estimated."

HUNSICKER RESIGNS.

Disagreement With President of United States Steel Company the Cause.

LONDON, July 13.—Colonel Millard Hunsicker has resigned the management of the European agency of the United States Steel Corporation. It is understood that there has been friction between Colonel Hunsicker and James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Export Company, for some time. Once before, it is stated, the colonel handed in his resignation for the same reason and W. E. Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, persuaded him to withdraw it. But, in consequence of a further renewal of the disagreements, Hunsicker cabled his resignation, which this time was accepted.

MUST STOP GAMBLING.

Keepers of Houses Indicted by Special Grand Jury.

LIBERTY, Mo., July 13.—A special grand jury here has indicted several keepers of gambling houses who have operated at the watering resort at Excelsior Springs, and the prosecuting attorney has notified Governor Folk that there is sufficient evidence to send a number of those indicted to the penitentiary.

Following the holding of the Democratic convention at Excelsior Springs in May last, the existence of gambling was brought to the attention of the governor, who intimated to the county officials that it must stop.

SENTELL SLOWLY SINKING.

Condition of Injured Passengers At Salisbury More Serious.

SALISBURY, England, July 13.—The bulletin posted at the infirmary here this morning announced that Edward W. Sentell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., one of the passengers injured in the railway disaster of July 1, was slowly sinking.

Robert S. Critchell, of Chicago, another of the injured passengers, is not so well as yesterday. His temperature rose during the night.

APPROVES INCOME TAX.

The Project Places the Main Burden on Large Fortunes.

PARIS, July 13.—The chamber of deputies today, by a vote of 448 to 43, approved the declarations of Finance Minister Poincare favorable to an income tax, thus insuring its adoption at the next session of Parliament. The project places the main burden on large fortunes, exempting the smaller incomes.

PASSENGER TRAIN DERAILED.

Cars Jump the Track and several Passengers Injured.

CHICAGO, July 13.—The engine, express car and combination car of Monon passenger train No. 36, from Cincinnati, were derailed today, south of Hammond, Ind. The engine jumped the track between Fair Oaks and Rose Lawn, and ran into a ditch. The express car turned completely over. The combination car, though leaving the track, did not upset. A passenger coach and two sleepers, which constituted the remainder of the train, remained on the rails.

Six persons were injured none seriously.

EXPLOSION IN STONE QUARRIES.

Evidence Indicates That Catastrophe Was Result of Plot.

CHICAGO, July 13.—Three men were blown to pieces, three others fatally injured and several others badly hurt by an explosion which early today wrecked a shanty in the McLaughlin stone quarries at Hellwood, a short distance northwest of Chicago.

There is evidence that the explosion was the result of a plot. The dynamite shed of the quarry, which is at a considerable distance from the shanty which was blown up, was broken open and the dynamite carried to the building, in which a number of laborers were sleeping, and exploded beneath the structure. The survivors all declare that there was no dynamite around their shanty when they retired for the night. All of the men killed and injured were Greek and Italian laborers.

The officials of the McLaughlin company denounced the blowing up of the shanty as deliberate murder, the motive being robbery. Several of the victims were known to have had considerable money. Louis Pappilo and his brother were killed, and when the bodies were found both had been stripped of clothing. This was not the case with any other man who was in the shanty at the time of the explosion.

NEW FREIGHT STEAMER.

Makes Maiden Voyage From Germany to New York.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The new freight steamer Ellen Rickmers, built by the Rickmers Shipbuilding Company of Bremer Haven, Germany, arrived at this port today on her maiden voyage. The Ellen Rickmers is one of four steamers recently constructed by the Rickmers company, and two others are under course of construction at the same yard. When they are completed, the Rickmers company will have a fleet of six new steam vessels. Heretofore this company has built sailing ships only.

The Ellen Rickmers is commanded by Captain Mierschaja. She is of 4,117 gross and 2,652 net tons register. The vessel will load for China and Japan.

Discussion.

7:30—Address by Professor Fred W. Card of Kingston College, on "Where will the Farmer be When the Century Goes Out?"

8—Address by Rev. Levi B. Edwards, diocesan missionary of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Providence, on "Religious Conditions in Rural Rhode Island."

8:30—Address by Hon. W. E. Ranger, state commissioner of public schools.

The season has been a little backward, but since the Fourth the town has filled rapidly with summer visitors and boarders. At Seaconnet Point things are especially rushing, and the hotels and boarding houses are having a larger business than ever before. Excursion steamer Favorite, allowed to carry 1,100 passengers, is bringing large parties daily. The dining hall is doing well and is furnishing attractive shore dinners with lobsters, to a large patronage. New cottages are being built annually and the summer colony is fast increasing in numbers. The cove is crowded with boats, with power boats in the majority.

Couldn't Lift Ten Pounds.

Doan's Kidney Pills Brought Strength and Health to the Sufferer, Making Him Feel Twenty-Five Years Younger.

Sick kidneys cause a weak, lame or aching back, and a weak back makes a weak man. Can't be well and strong until the kidneys are cured. Treat them with Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's the testimony of one man cured.

J. B. CORTON.

J. B. Corton, farmer and lumberman, of Depoe, N. C., says "I suffered for years with my back. It was so bad that I could not walk any distance nor even ride in easy buggy. I do not believe I could have raised ten pounds of weight from the ground, the pain was so severe. This was my condition when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly relieved me and now I am never troubled as I was. My back is strong and I can walk or ride a long distance and feel just as strong as I did twenty-five years ago. I think so much of Doan's Kidney Pills that I have given a supply of the remedy to some of my neighbors and they have also found good results. If you can sift anything from this rambling note that will be of any service to you, or to any one suffering from kidney trouble, you are at liberty to do so."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Corton will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

A marked feature of the year's work, has been the increase in the number of surgical cases, there having been 299, against 236 last year, equal to an increase of 32 per cent.

All these statistics are more fully shown in the reports of those in charge of the various departments of the hospital, which will be presented with this report.

It will be seen that during the year 1,451 persons have received benefit from the hospital. Five hundred and sixty-eight persons have each received on an average 27.05 days' treatment in the hospital. 502 persons have received an average of 10.2 visits each from the district nurses, 32 persons in the general out-patient department have received an average of 2.9 treatments each, and 293 persons in the eye department have received an average of 3.1 treatments each, and in the ear department 26 persons have received an average of 3.9 treatments each. In the district nursing service is included attendance at 170 confinement cases.

As was the case during the preceding year, it has been impossible to admit patients to the full capacity of the hospital, owing to lack of funds, but that its work has been extensive and varied for all classes of society, the rich as well as the poor, without regard to creed or nationality, these figures abundantly prove.

The necessity for rigid economy, and especially for care in the admission of patients for free treatment, has proved a severe task on the executive committee, and has at times subjected them to unjust criticism. We believe, however, that the public should be made to know that while we receive free patients to the extent of our income, we cannot and ought not to give free treatment to those who can afford to pay. Many in the community who would indignantly refuse to accept charity in any other form, ask without the least compunction for free treatment here, and consider that they are unfairly treated when it is refused.

We hope that the present limitation of the work, although it had not that specific object in view, is bringing about to some degree a more rational view of this matter and a clearer understanding of the obligations of the hospital. Our funds are held for the benefit of the sick poor and cannot justly be used for the benefit of any except the poor. We are not alone in experiencing difficulty in the regulation of this matter. There has been for some time a belief on the part of those in charge of other hospitals that more income should be received from the patients, and there is now a decided increase in the amount of money received from this source. In this connection it may be noted that the increase in our own work over last year is chiefly in the number of paying patients.

At the close of last year the suit brought by the city of Newport against the hospital was still pending, although a decision in favor of the hospital had been given on many of the questions involved. Since then a final decision has been given, and the litigation brought to an end in a manner favorable to the hospital in every way.

The full text of the decision of the supreme court is herewith presented as a part of this report.

The expense of this lawsuit to the hospital was about $2,500, and the trustees most keenly regret being obliged to use funds for such a purpose which ought to have been used in the care of the sick. The money used in defraying the expenses of this suit would have paid for the care of about 40 patients for 27 days each, this being the average time of patients in the hospital.

The subject of the care of city cases has again been under consideration. In response to a request from the city authorities the hospital submitted an offer to care for all city cases for the very low price of $1 per day, but this offer was not accepted. Although the laws of the state most explicitly provide that each city must care for its sick poor, yet the city of Newport neglects to do this, and of necessity most of its cases come to us. We have cared for these, not as an obligation but as an act of humanity, although the expense has been a heavy burden and serious embarrassment to us. How long we can continue to do this it is impossible to say. The demands upon us are constantly increasing, and are constantly bringing before us difficult financial situations. In view of the service the hospital has rendered the community in the past, and of what it is doing today, it seems to be especially unjust that we should be compelled to incur indebtedness in caring for the city's poor, and to bear a financial burden which the law of the state places on the city of Newport.

The need of a larger income is very urgent. It is true that by the strictest economy and careful limitation of the number of patients we have been able to close the year with a deficit of only $65.14 in current expenses, but there is a pressing demand on the hospital for larger work, and this demand should be met. We now have a splendidly equipped institution, furnished with all the appliances necessary to meet the exacting requirements of modern medical and surgical work, with physicians, surgeons and nurses skillful, devoted to their work and justly proud of the hospital, and are prepared to render to this community every service that can be expected of a hospital if only sufficient funds are available.

We cannot sufficiently thank those who have so generously given to the hospital during the year. Loyal friends have responded liberally to our needs and have contributed toward our current expenses $5,554.09, and by special contributions for that purpose have met the whole expense of the district nursing. But we greatly desire that there should be a large increase in the number of our own citizens who annually contribute, according to their ability, toward the support of the hospital. We desire this not only because of the financial aid it will give us, but because of the interest and friendship it will be the expression of, and of the wider knowledge of the hospital which will result from it.

The debt of the hospital, as represented by the notes outstanding, amounts to $105,000, no reduction having been made during the year. Until this is paid by the sale of land or otherwise, the interest will continue to be a heavy drain on our finances.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of our former superintendent has been filled by the election to that position of Miss Mary H. Paterson, who began her duties November 1, 1905. Miss Paterson is a native of Rhode Island and a graduate of the Rhode Island Hospital in 1900. She has been superintendent of the Beverly Hospital, has taken a course in the teachers' college connected with Columbia University and has been assistant superintendent of the Newton Hospital, which last position she resigned to come to us. She has already shown herself to possess the qualifications for her office to be expected from one of her character, training and experience.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees,
Wm. P. Buffum, President.

CHARMED THE LION.

Pinned to the earth by a mountain lion, Mrs. John Underwood of New York, who is visiting near Custer, S. D., with her husband, spent a night of terror. Her life was saved by her presence of mind in putting in effect the old theory of charming savage beasts with harmony.

When struck down from behind in the gathering twilight on the side of Harney Mountain, Mrs. Underwood screamed again and again. Echo resounded back and the beast listened as if fearing an unseen enemy. The prostrate woman then began to sing first feebly but with gathering strength, and the lion made no move to injure her. At daybreak Mr. Underwood, attracted to the spot by his wife's singing, shot the beast, in doing so taking chances of hitting his wife. She is suffering seriously from her experience.

PRESIDENT ENJOYS A PICNIC.

Spends the Day With His Family at Eaton's Neck.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., July 13.—President Roosevelt and his family are enjoying a picnic today at Eaton's Neck, on the sound. They left the J. West Roosevelt landing below Sagamore Hill at 10 o'clock in two rowboats, the President rowing one and Theodore, Jr., the other. As a cargo they had hampers of luncheon, fishing tackle, base balls and bats and target rifles. Eaton's Neck is nearly 10 miles from the starting point, and the party will remain there a good part of the day, returning in the evening. The President will then take up his daily correspondence with Secretary Loeb and work tonight on it. No callers will be received.

Mrs. Esne has moved her quarters in Oyster Bay, taking a room near the residence of Secretary Loeb. She persists that if it takes all summer she will have the interview she seeks with Mrs. Roosevelt. Mrs. Esne was committed to the government hospital for the insane for three days last year, and then discharged.

INTERSTATE PASSES CANCELED.

Owing to Railroad Rate Bill Recently Passed by Congress.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Congress having passed the railway rate bill, with its sweeping features prohibiting the issuance of railroad passes, President Harriman of the Southern Pacific has sent out orders here to cancel the annual interstate passes which the San Francisco officials of the road sent out at the beginning of the year.

This cancellation order will not go into effect until the end of this year, because the law in question does not become operative until that time.

The Congressional law has nothing to do with the company's annual passes within the limits of this state.

JASWELL STARTS AGAIN.

Passage Secured on Joy Line Steamer For New York.

PROVIDENCE, July 13.—Pedro Jaswell, convicted murderer, who has been pardoned by Governor George H. Utter, officially discharged from the state prison and started on his way to an Italian institution of the insane, but who was prevented from doing so last Saturday by the surgeon of White Star liner Romanic because of his insanity, will again set forth from here this evening.

This afternoon, under guard of Deputy Sheriff Antonio Gernatti, Jaswell went to the superior courthouse, where he was shaved and dressed for his voyage. His passage has been secured on the Joy liner Larchmont, which leave this city at 6:30, arriving in New York at about 5 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Jaswell's attorney, Judge Richard E. Lyman, has been absent from the city since yesterday morning, and it is the general opinion that he is in New York and will meet Jaswell on the arrival of the steamer there.

At the prison it was stated that Jaswell was expected to leave New York on some Italian steamer sailing from that port tomorrow, but it is possible that he may not sail at all, only going to New York to settle as he desired.

STORM WARNING.

Indicates Disturbance on North Carolina Coast.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The local weather bureau has received the following special from Washington:

"Northeast storm warnings displayed 10 a. m., from Norfolk to Fort Monroe; disturbance on North Carolina coast; may increase and cause high northeast to north winds on Virginia and North Carolina coast."

HANDS CRACKED AND BLEEDING

And Fingers Were All Drawn up With Eczema—A Cure of Nearly Twenty Years Ago by the Cuticura Treatment—Have Had no Further Trouble with Hands Since.

PERMANENT CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"My mother was badly afflicted by a species of eczema or salt rheum in her hands. They were very bad. She was treated by her family physician for over three months and no benefit. Then she thought she would try the Cuticura Remedies, and very soon found relief. Her hands and fingers were all drawn up and cracked and bleeding. They very soon commenced to heal up and in less than three months were about well. She used the Soap, I don't know how many boxes of the Ointment and four bottles of the Resolvent. For two years she was entirely free from the disease, when it came on again; but as she used the Remedies immediately, was soon cured, and has had no more trouble with her hands for nearly twenty years.

"For years she has always had the Ointment in the house and used it occasionally in the winter time. She has recommended it to many people and always speaks well of it and would use it again if needed, and she thinks no Soap is equal to the Cuticura Soap.

"She is willing you should publish the above if you care to. Very truly yours, Wm. A. Young, 50 Russell St., New Bedford, Mass., July 31, 1905."

FLOATING PANAMA CANAL BONDS

Secretary Shaw Has Conference with New York Bankers at Sub-Treasury.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Secretary Shaw had a conference with local bankers at the sub-treasury today. It is understood that the Secretary has concluded all preliminaries for the flotation of the $50,000,000 of Panama canal bonds, though the issue price has not yet been announced, nor is it known what proportion of the whole will be allotted to New York banks. Inquiries from out of town institutions are said to be quite numerous.

It is semi-officially stated that practically all the funds derived from the sale of the bonds will remain undisturbed in the banks until crop moving requirements have been met.

TEXTILE INDUSTRIES STRONGER.

No Important Change Occurs in the Trade Situation.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Despatches to Dun's Review indicate that no important change has occurred in the trade situation, while confidence in the future is sustained by favorable reports from farms. Boston reports that mid-summer quiet is apparent in many departments and the weather has curtailed dry goods jobbing trade. Textile industries are stronger because of the advance in wages, and footwear buyers are in the market.

Exchanges through the 14 principal clearing houses for the week aggregated $2,602,505,041, a slight increase over the corresponding week last year.

NEW YORK, July 13, Wall Street.—The stock market opened easy, with Amalgamated Copper at 93½, American Locomotive 61½, American Smelting 141½, Anaconda 226, Atchison 85⅞, Baltimore & Ohio 115½, Brooklyn Transit 71½, Canadian 168⅞, Colorado Fuel & Iron 45⅝, Erie 38⅜, Louisville 130⅝, Missouri Pacific 80½, New York Central 135⅝, Northern Pacific 196, Ontario & Western 45, Pennsylvania 130½, Reading 117, ex-dividend; Rock Island 22⅝, Southern Railway 32⅝, St. Paul 172½, Southern Pacific 64, Union Pacific 146⅜, United States Steel 39⅝, United States Steel preferred 110.

11—Prices of stocks started downward at the opening today, without regard to the advances in London before the opening here. Reading, Northern Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio were the only important stocks to show slight advances. The gains in the last named ranging to ¾. Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha and United States Rubber fell 2, Great Northern preferred 1½, Amalgamated Copper, Smelting, and Brooklyn Transit a point and St. Paul 1½.

11—Liquidation among the speculative offset efforts to stiffen the standard stocks, and after slight rallies, in which Union Pacific and several others went above yesterday's closing, the market became notably weak again. United States Steel sold down to 39⅝, the lowest price of the year, and Amalgamated Copper made a new low record also at 92½. The market had a vigorous rally at 11 o'clock, some of the leaders again rising to above last night.

Money—Money on call steady at 4 per cent; prime mercantile paper 5½@5¾ per cent. The rally restored prices generally to near last night's level, with the exception of some isolated shortlines. The demand became extremely dull at the recovery. Bonds were irregular.

DIVIDEND DECLARED.

Court Confirms Report of Receiver of Steamer Mary--Payment Amounts to 13-4 Per Cent.

In accordance with a decree of the superior court of Rhode Island, the first and final dividend of 1 1-4 per cent. on claims against the Providence, Newport & Block Island Transportation Company has been declared. The report of Frank L. Hinckley as receiver of the company is on file and has been confirmed by the court. The holders of the mortgage on steamer Mary have waived their claim under the mortgage and received the same dividend as the other creditors.

The company went into effect two years ago and was formed by a number of Providence business men. William E. White was manager. A short time after the company was incorporated steamer Mary was purchased at Michigan City and brought to Providence. The steamer made several trips to and from the island, making stops both ways at Newport.

The move, evidently, was not a profitable one and on Sundays the little steamer was chartered by Fall River parties to take excursionists to neighboring resorts. During the holiday week she was seized several times by the custom house authorities for carrying more passengers than the limit allowed, and on each offence a fine of $200 was levied upon her. This amounted to more than $3,000.

Her case was carried to court and the fines were lessened to $300. Trouble upon trouble impeded the career of the steamer and in the latter part of the season her trips to Block Island were abandoned and she was placed on the so-called Bay Line, running between Newport, Fall River and Providence in opposition to the present companies. At that time it was stated on reliable authority that the present companies were about to enter into a combine in order to fight what they called the intruder.

The career of the Mary on the Bay line was very short and traffic, both freight and passenger, became dull and the company finally tied her up. Frank L. Hinckley was then appointed receiver. Soon after this it was noted that she would run again this summer but as there was no money forthcoming to relieve her of the heavy debt, she was ordered to be sold.

At the time of the sale she fell into the hands of William J. Dunn of Fall River, for the sum of $7,500, and later she was chartered by the Mercantile line of New York, to ply between Bridgeport and the metropolis in the freight service, where she is now running.

LE DOMINO BOUFFE COMING.
